DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 4, 8-10 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Rongione et al. (US Pat. 6,897,327).

US'327 teaches a process of preparing conjugated linoleic acids via isomerization, saponification then followed by crystallization. Additionally the reaction can be conducted at temperatures that range between 100°C and 130°C, see column 6.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1621

2. Claims 4-10 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Saebo et al. (US Pat. 6,743,931) in view of Reaney et al. (US Pat. 6,420,577).

US'931 discloses a process of preparing conjugated linoleic acids via isomerization, saponification then followed by distillation. Additionally the reaction can be conducted at temperatures that range between 100°C and 130°C, see columns 9 & 10. The claims differ from the reference by including a crystallization step after saponification.

However it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to added crystallization as a purification step after saponification. It is conventionally know as shown in US'577 that crystallization preceded by distillation and crystallization alone would have been an obvious modification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 9-10 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The application as originally filed does not contain the matter recited in these claims. There is no written description of a compound of formula I nor that the residues of said compound are of linoleic acid.
